EARLY FOURTH; BOY BADLY HURT

Victor Carder, 8 Years Old of Milroy, Suffers From Accident in Premature Celebration.

VISITING IN CONNERSVILLE

Stray Fire Cracker Lodges a Part of its Charge in His Garments.

Eight-year-old Victor Carder was frightfully burned late yesterday afternoon, probably from the stray charge from a fire cracker, says the Connersville News. But for the quick action of Mrs. Louis Obrecht the child would probably have burned to death then and there. His hurts are dangerous as it is, but it is believed that he will recover.

The boy lives in Milroy, but is here visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lugenbell of Fifteenth street, who are his grandparents. Late yesterday afternoon he was playing with several other children in the vicinity of the Obrecht home, when Mrs. Obrecht, glancing from an upstairs window, saw the little boy standing in the back yard, tearing frantically at his clothing which was burning. He was uttering no sound. She hurried down and succeeded in smothering the flames with an old cloth. The child was so stricken by horror and agony that speech seemed to have left him. He was taken to the home of his relatives and there a physician arrived soon afterward and cared for his injuries.

He was badly burned about the breast and the upper surfaces of the abdomen, and his right arm was seared over much of its surface. When the first effects of the shock began to subside the intense pain almost maddened the little boy, but the physician soon had this suffering under control. He spent a fairly good night and seemed better today.

How the child's clothing took fire is not surely known. Some of his little companions had fire crackers, which they were exploding, and it is thought probable that some part of a charge from one of these must have caught in his garments and started the blaze. The little patient himself does not know just when his clothing began to burn. His escape from swift and horrible death is considered highly fortunate, and in the circumstance there is believed to lie a highly important lesson in the danger of fireworks.

SPEAKING OF—

Andersonville Herald: The constitution of the United States guarantees every man the right to think for himself. Some men get so radical in their narrow views that they want to substitute convictions for the constitution.

RAN INTO TRUCK.

William Pugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Pugh, of West Seventh street, received a painful cut over one of his eyes last night when he ran into one of the trucks at the traction station while roller skating. The little fellow failed to see the handle of the truck and skated directly into it, the blow cutting his forehead. Six stitches were taken.

PREPARING FOR "BIG WEDNESDAY"

Merchants Expect Large Crowd to Attend First Bargain Day of Year, July 10.

COMMITTEES ARE AT WORK

The Merchants Association will meet tonight to hear reports of the committees on "Big Wednesday." A large attendance is desired as this is of importance to all merchants.

The first "Big Wednesday" of the year, July 10, promises to be one of the most successful ever given by the Merchants Association. The various committees are at work on the arrangements for the day and a large crowd is expected. Band concerts and free shows will be a part of the entertainment. The novel plan adopted by the merchants whereby each merchant will give something of value free of charge is expected to be a feature of the day.

In the afternoon the Maxwell ball team of Newcastle will play the locals and this added attraction will no doubt be a drawing card for many. All the merchants are working in an effort to make the day a success. The advertising committee will take advantage of the Powwow July 4 and "Big Wednesday" bills will be in evidence at the fair grounds.

PRAISE FOR JAMES WATSON UNSTINTED

Charles Vetterli of Greenfield Writes
That Former Congressman Made
Friends in Convention.

SAYS NO NEW PARTY'S NEEDED

Charles Vetterli of Greenfield has addressed a communication to the Daily Republican in which he praises James E. Watson for his work as Taft parliamentarian, and declared that the former congressman made friends.

He writes as follows:

A word in regard to the presidential nomination made at Chicago. While the ticket is not first choice of all Republicans, it has been tried. It is good enough for any Republican. We are not in need of a new party. Neither do we want a new nationalism. The old constitution and the old starry flag that has weathered the battles and storms for the last 136 years is good enough for any people or party. I want to thank and praise James E. Watson, floor leader of the Taft forces, for the excellent leadership he displayed in the Chicago convention, thus making it possible for Taft to be renominated. And I might add Mr. Watson has many warm friends now who only a short time ago, were cold toward him.

H. S. ALUMNI EAT AND HEAR TOASTS

Second Biennial Banquet of Organization Held in Christian Church Basement Last Night.

THE OLD TIES ARE RENEWED

After-Dinner Speakers Express Belief That Association Can be Made a Power For Good.

The early days of high school life, the value of high school training and the life of some of the pioneers in the high school work in Rushville was recalled in toasts at the second biennial meeting and banquet of the Alumni Association of the Rushville high school in the basement of the Main Street Christian church last night.

Although the attendance last night was not quite as large as it was two years ago, when the first banquet was held, the spirit manifest was such that led members interested in the welfare of the organization to believe that it would gain in membership annually and make for a companionship and relationship among the high school alumni that would not only be pleasant, but will contrive to be a benefit to the future welfare of the high school.

As was suggested by one of the after-dinner speakers last night, the Alumni Association can become a power for good, and by close organization can get behind the high school and assist in making it even of greater benefit to the community.

Whitelaw Spurrier of the class of 1898, who is now superintendent of the public schools in Princeton, Ill., presided as toastmaster in a highly creditable manner. In his opening talk, he welcomed heartily the members of the class of 1912. He told of the value of a high school education as a stepping stone to a college and university education. He said that none appreciated the value of it better than one who is engaged in educational work.

The toastmaster grew reminiscent. He recalled the days when John Brown was janitor at the school building which was destroyed by fire, and how the pupils spent their time making life a burden for him. Prof. Spurrier paid a deep tribute to W. C. Barnhart, formerly an instructor in the high school, and one who taught and was intimately known to many of the alumni present last night. Prof. Spurrier had a timely story or an illustration from life which was to the point, in introducing each one on the toast list.

Miles S. Cox of the class of 1905, gave a brief and appropriate toast on the fetching subject "The Women." He made a few facetious observations concerning femininity, and was applauded a number of times during the course of his toast. Mr. Cox spoke of the influence for good that women have over the world at large, and of the greater force and power they were to be when they once had the right of ballot.

Dr. C. H. Parsons, class of 1872, which was the second class ever graduated from the Rushville high school, was introduced as one who would toast on the subject "When the High School Was an Infant." He remarked that he has seen a number of infants grow up, among that number being the Rushville high school.

Dr. Parsons gave a bit of history about the early days of the high school which was very interesting to the banqueters. He told of the conditions in high school when he was a student; and of some of the teachers of that day whose influence had been such that it was felt even to this day. He referred to the venerable late David Graham, who was always

IS CONTRACTING FOR ATTRACTIONS

Red Men Lodge Completing Arrangements For Monster Fourth of July Celebration Here.

IS EXTENSIVELY ADVERTISED.

All Sorts of Amusing Contests Are Planned For Day at Fair Grounds.

A committee of Red Men went to Lewisville last night in an automobile and contracted with a dwarf of that town to be one of the attractions at the monster powwow and ox roast which will be held at the fair grounds here the Fourth of July.

The dwarf is twenty-six years old and is only thirty inches tall. He will be one of the many attractions that the Red Men will have here for the entertainment of the large crowd that is expected. It is planned by the lodgemen to have the celebration an old-fashioned one which can be enjoyed by old and young people alike.

Arrangements are being completed for horse racing and motorcycle racing. It is hoped, also, to arrange for some freak contests, such as potato races, fat and slim men's races, and similar things which will serve to amuse the crowd. The ox roast will be no small part of the day's proceedings. A complete program will be announced later.

In the evening the celebration will be in Rushville. A display of fireworks such as has not been seen here in years will be made. It is also a part of the plan to arrange for an automobile parade here at night.

The extensive advertising that has been done insures a large crowd if nothing else does. The Red Men have advertised the day in all the newspapers in this section of Indiana. And in view of the fact that there are no other celebrations planned in Eastern Indiana, there is reason to believe that people from all over this section will be attracted here.

As has already been announced, former Rush county people in Madison county are expecting to make a homecoming out of the day, and a crowd numbering at least three hundred will come from that county. A meeting will be held in Anderson tonight to arrange for the trip.

I. & C. DIRECTORS IN MEETING TODAY

Convened in Indianapolis to Hear Reports of Surveyors of 2 Proposed Routes of Extension.

NONE WAS TO BE SELECTED

The directors of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company met in Indianapolis this afternoon with the expectation of hearing the report of the surveys which have been made of the proposed routes of extension from this city by way of Brookville and from Greensburg by the way of Batesville. The meeting was said to have no special significance, in that the directors would not select the route of extension. This will be the last meeting for possibly two months, because several will be gone for the summer.

A number of Rush county people are attending the convention this year, among the number being a delegate from practically every Sunday school in the county, and the president of the county association, Prof. J. H. Scholl.

TOM IS NO MEAN PROGNOSTICATOR

Gov. Marshall Wires Weather Bureau

Prophecy Comes True.

A SEQUENCE IN FORECASTS

+ Thanks for the picture and +

+ GOV. THOMAS MARSHALL. +

The above is the contents of a telegram received today by Tom Scanlan, who has already gained a reputation as no mean forecaster. Four years ago he prophesied that the nomination of James E. Watson for governor made Democratic success easy, that the nomination of John W. Kern for vice-president made it easier and the nomination of Tom Marshall for governor cinched the whole matter. Following the election a picture of Marshall and Hall, the editor of the Rushville Democrat, and Mr. Scanlan, with the prophecy and the additional quotation, "The mills of the Gods grind slowly," appeared on the front page of the Democrat. The other day Mr. Scanlan sent the clipping and additional prophecy that Indiana's governor would be nominated at Baltimore, which accounts for the telegram.

MORRISTOWN MEN GET HEAVY FINES

Judge Blair Sentences William
Cremens and Chas. Tillotson to 30 Days in Jail.

EACH IS FINED $50 BESIDES

William Cremens and Charles Tillotson, well-known residents of Morristown, struck a surprise in the circuit court Wednesday, when they entered pleas of guilty before Judge Blair on blind tiger charges that had been preferred against them last April after their places had been raided Saturday night, April 13, 1912, by Sheriff James Moore and a posse of deputies, says the Shelbyville Democrat.

As soon as they had entered the pleas of guilty Judge Blair stated that the fine against each would be fifty dollars. Then he added that each would have to spend thirty days in the county jail.

The men were so dumbfounded they could not speak for several minutes. Afterward they said they would not have entered pleas of guilty had they even suspected that the court might add a jail sentence.

PROGRESSIVES ARE IN CONTROL

Seated by Democratic Convention
by Vote, 639½ to 437.

CLARK'S DEFEAT IS ADMITTED

Demonstration Lasting 22 Minutes Started by Supporters of Candidates.

(Bulletin.)
(By United Press.)

Baltimore, June 27.—Sullivan delegates from Illinois seated viva voce vote. Report committee permanent organization making Ollie James permanent chairman, then adopted. After speech will come nomination speeches for presidency.

[Special to the Daily Republican.]
Baltimore, June 27.—That the progressives were in complete control of the Democratic national convention was evinced this afternoon when the convention voted to seat the Wilson delegates from South Dakota over the Clark delegates, thus overruling the action of the credentials committee.

The Illinois and New York delegations, both of which are pledged to Clark, voted solidly for the Wilson delegates. This sudden change is taken to mean that Murphy, the Tammany boss and chief of the Empire State delegation, has reached the conclusion Clark can not win and is maneuvering for an opportunity to dominate the situation when the break comes on presidential balloting.

The Indiana delegation voted 11 for Wilson delegates and 19 for Clark delegates. This vote indicates that the Hoosiers are dividing their support in hopes of a deadlock in favor of Marshall or Kern. The vote on this contest was Wilson delegates, 639½; Clark's, 437; not voting, 15½ and two absent.

The convention opened at 12:43 o'clock and the consideration of the South Dakota contest was begun at once. It was interrupted soon by a demonstration, lasting twenty-two minutes, which was started by the supporters of Gov. Wilson and later spread to delegations supporting other candidates.

William Jennings Bryan and the progressives behind him have driven the Murphy-Ryan-Belmont-Sullivan-Smith-Taggart political syndicate into a corner. Murphy and his associates were willing today to enter into any peace agreement that did not provide for the nomination of Bryan or Wilson for President. There were intimations early that they might even be willing to take Wilson if it became necessary to make that further concession in order to prevent the nomination going to the Nebraskan.

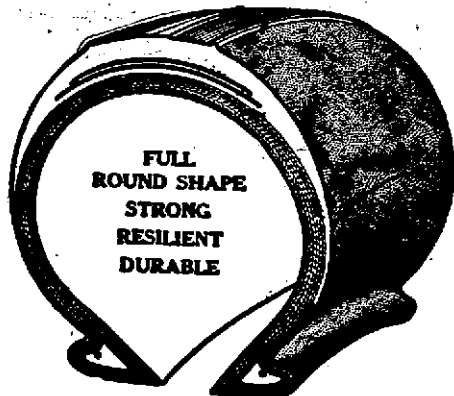

Murphy and the men who work with him were up all night trying to find a way out. Only one course seemed left to them. It was to join in a movement looking to the nomination of some progressive other than Bryan or Wilson.

In the small hours of the morning a decision to support Senator John W. Kern, of Indiana, was tentatively reached. Some of Murphy's associates object to Kern because, as they said, he is Bryan's first choice for the nomination.

The statement was made in these dispatches last Monday that this would be a progressive convention, that it would nominate a progressive candidate and would put out a progressive declaration of principles. That statement was very generally questioned then. Today it is accepted by everybody. Bryan turned the trick and he was able to do what he has done because the convention is at

Cadillac's Steps From LaChine, Quebec, to Detroit, Retraced by His Modern Impersonator

MAP SHOWING ROUTE TRAVERSED BY CADILLAC.

It was 211 years ago when Chevalier Antoine de la Motte Cadillac started from LaChine, Quebec, and eventually landed and founded a trading post on the site where the great city of Detroit now stands. The French explorer and soldier of fortune had with him fifty soldiers and fifty artisans. The expedition was financed by Count Pontchartrain of France.

The trip of this navigator and happy-go-lucky wayfarer was beset with hardships, quarrels with Indians, privations and disappointments, but the lilies of France were eventually planted on the shores of what is now Detroit July 22, 1701.

To inaugurate Cadillac's, a water fête to be held in Detroit annually the last week in July in celebration of Cadillac's founding of the city, a modern hero is making the same trip that Cadillac made. Imagine the difference in travelling which 211 years have made. The hostile Indians who made war on the real Cadillac and his sturdy voyagers are now the most docile citizens of Canada. The Ottawa river no longer imperils the voyager, and the portages near lake Nipissing are no longer pitfalls for the weary traveler. Georgian bay, an unknown region to the white man when Cadillac crossed it, is not expected to thwart the progress of the modern Cadillac, nor is it expected that Lake Huron will prove a mystery or a handicap to the entourage of the 1912 hero, Cadillac.

On the contrary, every luxury will feature the trip being made by the twentieth century Cadillac. Instead of being met and harassed by savage Redskins, he will be picked up in Lake St. Clair by Colonel Frank J. Hecker's magnificent steam yacht Halcyon and escorted to the city by the largest fleet of boats ever assembled on fresh water, including revenue cutters, naval reserve boats and police patrol motorboats. Governor Osborn will be aboard Colonel Hecker's flagship, and Cadillac will hear sixteen guns, the governor's salute, from every revenue cutter and government boat as the flagship passes. Indeed, times have changed.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Stamm and Mrs. Tom Mosburg and sons Verne two children and Mr. and Mrs. Char-and Wilbur and Mrs. Mariah York ley Murphy were the Sunday dinnered at Glenwood, Sunday. Mrs. guests of Alva George and family. York remained for a week's visit.

FACING A SERIOUS PROBLEM

English Housewives Seem to Be Called Upon to Choose Between Cook and Parlormaid.

Now, the crux of the situation is this: Which of the maids is to go? Must the neat-handed parlor maid take her departure? If so, the lady of the house knows that the early cup of tea will not be ready to start her day, or if she must have she will have to do as her sister from the colonies usually does—make it herself. Women from the colonies, by the way, are apt to be amused at the comfortable existence led by the home people. English gentlemen who have settled in Canada are often compelled to get up of a morning to coal the basement fire for heating the home. Think of the gentlemen of the upper middle classes at home getting up of a morning to kindle the kitchen fire! It is not to be thought of; the suggestion is an impossible one. Then a glance round the drawing room, with its polished floor, its rugs, its ornaments, its coal fire, for preference, makes the middle-aged house mistress go quietly out, close the door of the room, and meditate in solitude. It seems to her that cook must go. However, there rises before her the ghosts of the dishes she used to make quite well. It is so long since she touched any kitchen utensils! Would her old skill return to her in her extremity? Alas! she could not reckon upon any such happy coincidence; she, perforce, must continue to rack her brain and pay her cook. Even suppose she did manage by outside aid, what would happen on their social evenings?—London Standard.

The KITCHEN CABINET

HOW BEAUTIFUL it would be being we met unconsciously revealed in look and word and action, in the slightest gesture and movement, the divine intention of his creation! It is because life, the children do so, for the first brief months of their lives, that they charm us and captivate us. And it is in the simplicity of being without dissimulation, and from the depths of our souls, just what we were meant to be, that they become as little children, and with them enter into the kingdom of heaven. The world seems to force us to put on masks and veils to hide what is most real in us behind some conventional caricature of ourselves.

WAYS THAT ARE NEW OF SERVING MEATS.

Take four to eight cutlets of lamb or mutton, trim off the superfluous fat, scrape the bone neatly and dust with nutmeg, celery salt, salt and pepper, and sprinkle with a little chopped onion, add a half pint of peas, an ounce of bacon cut small, a few new potatoes and a cup of stock. The potatoes must be parboiled before adding to the dish. Cook in a hot oven and serve the chops with a garnish of the potatoes and peas.

Cutlets a la Espagnol.—Take four to six cutlets prepared as above, dust them with salt and pepper. Have ready a cup of boiled rice, mix it with plenty of tomato catsup. Put the rice in a greased paper bag and place the cutlets on top; place in the oven and cook for thirty minutes in a moderately hot oven.

If one is using gas and have only a hot plate, paper bag cookery is not prohibitive, for with a little ingenuity one may arrange a fine oven. A deep skillet with a good tight cover and trivet of a wire dishcloth or any metal which will keep the bag from touching the bottom, may be used. Light the gas and put in the bag and roast as if it were an oven.

Get a pound of lean, chopped veal, less two ounces, which supply with two ounces of suet; season well and make into a cake. Put into a buttered bag with slices of onion and tomato laid over the meat and a few pieces of well-floured butter. Bake on the trivet in the skillet.

Best by Test—FAIR PROMISE

Madame Merri's Advice and Suggestions

Regarding Leap Year Parties.

There have been some adverse criticisms on leap year parties, but I do not see why the right kind of boys and girls cannot give such an affair with just as much propriety as any other novel entertainment. Whatever is done depends entirely upon the characters of the individuals participating and this is true at all times. I am very glad to comply with the request of one who says she always reads the department and relies upon its opinion and who ask about the leap year problem.

I will tell about a party that was given in a city suburb at the clubhouse to which most of the guests belonged. It was a delightful affair and other similar evenings may be given at private homes or in school assembly halls. The invitations were sent out by the young women in the most correct style, asking the pleasure of the young men's company, saying who were to be the chaperons, so that each man's mother felt assured that her son would be in proper society. Flowers were sent, in most instances bunches of violets. Two girls took one carriage or automobile and called for their respective boys. The chaperons were paid due attention, each man being returned to his watchful mother or aunt, whoever it happened to be.

Several of the boys were attended by valets, in lieu of maids. The girls wore stiff collars and white lawn ties, and some wore white vests. The boys wore soft lace collars or jabots, carried fans or wore them on long chains. All had on gloves, both girls and boys.

The men "poured" coffee and chocolate, which was served with sandwiches and small cakes. A large bowl of frappe was conveniently placed where the young women saw to it that the thirst of their partners was duly quenched. Promptly at 12:30 "Home Sweet Home" was played.

The 29th of next month is oftentimes selected for a "Leap Year" function, as it makes it more novel, the date coming only once in four years. I hope the many letters I have received regarding this subject will be satisfactorily answered in the above.

A Crowned Head Dinner Party. A hostess renowned for her ingenuity in getting up and carrying out unique entertainments scored a great success when she issued invitations for her "Crowned Head" dinner. There were 20 guests seated at five small tables. The usual evening gown was worn and the head and shoulders were in exact imitation of some royal personage. Men wore just the conventional evening dress. Just imagine your best friend with her hair dressed "a la Mary Queen of Scots, or as Marie Antoinette. One quite stout round-faced matron went as the late Queen Victoria. It was a remarkably interesting study to see the transformation made by costuming the head in an entirely different mode from the present.

A Pre-Nuptial Luncheon.

This table was so pretty I have been wanting to tell the department readers about it. The centerpiece was a low glass bowl filled with white carnations. Tied to one for each guest was a broad white satin ribbon that went from the bowl to the plate, where it ended in the initials of the guest, formed of rice. The kernels showed up well on the bare mahogany table and were kept even by forming with the straight edge of a knife. There were eight glass candles with white silk shades edged with crystal beads. Standing figure favors of bride and bridesmaids stood at each place, with the date of the wedding done in gilt. The loaves were in form of wedding bells, the salted almonds were in slipper-shaped holders and the cakes were heart-shaped. Last of all, the finger bowls held the petals of orange blossoms.

LET US SHOW YOU NO-RIM-CUT TIRES
You are undoubtedly convinced that you should use No-Rim-Cut tires. Every motorist has read about No-Rim-Cut tires again and again in the magazines and newspapers. You have read how the 10 per cent oversize and No-Rim-Cut features cut tire bills in two. You have wanted these tires. They are here now. Let us show you.

NO-RIM-CUT FEATURE
No-Rim-Cut tires have six tapes of 126 braided wires in the base, making the base absolutely unstretchable. Nothing can force the tire out of the rim channel. A hooked base is not necessary to hold the No-Rim-Cut tire on. The hooked side of the rings are turned away from the tire. Then the tire, when deflated, rests on the rounded side of the rings. Rim-cutting is impossible.

10 PER CENT OVERSIZE
GOOD YEAR
When a car is overloaded the tires get that extra strain. That hastens breakdowns—means blowouts. No-Rim-Cut tires are made 10 per cent oversize to provide for overload. The construction allows that. That oversize means 10 per cent more air—10 per cent more carrying capacity. That oversize saves all that overloading costs. Consider these features and what they save the motorists. No-Rim-Cut tires cost no more than standard clincher tires. Why shouldn't you adopt No-Rim-Cut tires? Come and see them and you will.

For eight years the Stoddard-Dayton factory has been building quality cars.

For eight years these cars have been giving extraordinary service to their owners.

For eight years they have been building up a reputation which has spread until all motorists acknowledge the excellence of the Stoddard-Dayton product.

The fact that these cars are graceful in line, splendidly finished and appointed, roomy and comfortable, and meeting all service demands, and yet sell from $500 to $1000—less than other cars in their class, is now being generally appreciated. Their lower price is due to lower overhead expenses, economical administration and a policy of reasonable profits.

A "Savoy" carrying six men went up a steep hill on high gear, at a speed of 25 miles an hour. Several times the car was throttled down until it almost stopped, and each time picked up full speed again without changing gears.

Any price you pay (more than you need to pay for a car that will do all you require of it) is wasteful expenditure. You can pay upwards of $4000 for a car that will do no more for you than this Stoddard-Dayton "Savoy" which costs only $1450.

You can get out and walk beside the "Savoy" while the gear is in "high" and throttled down close. This you can do not only on smooth roads, but on cobble stone pavements.

Ask your motoring friends if their cars will stand such tests as these. Come in and see the "Savoy." Ride in it while we put it to these tests—and any other tests you wish. Arrange an appointment today—now. There's no obligation attached to this—we are always glad to demonstrate these cars to anyone at anytime.

Stoddard-Dayton
The "Savoy" motor is quiet, powerful, flexible

The "Savoy" motor does its work not only efficiently but quietly. You can pay several thousand dollars for a car and not secure a motor that will run noticeably quieter. When the car is standing still you often have to put your hand on the hood to "feel" whether the motor is running or not.

The "Savoy" equipment includes magneto, O. D. Rims, top and top boot, nickel plated trimmings, gas tank and five lamps, 33 x 4 tires. Wheelbase 112 inches, cylinders 4x4.

We also have the "Savoy" in a two passenger compartment roadster for $1350.

OROZCO SPURNS THE HINT TO SURRENDER
Neither Will His Forces Accept Amnesty.

El Paso, Tex., June 27.—The federals attacked the rebels at Bachimba Pass, forty miles south of Chihuahua, flanking them from the rear with cavalry, and there has been some spirited fighting, but the rebels have been able to scatter the federals largely, as the main federal column did not attack.

It is believed that the flank attack was made prematurely, as General Huerta has not yet arrived in position in front of the rebels to attack them, though there has been fighting between the advance guards of the two armies, and each side has taken some straggling prisoners.

Swat the Fly

Revitalizing July 4.

The trouble with a great many of the old efforts for the "safe and sane fourth" is that they have been too negative.

If the town fathers, the captains of industry and business and professional men, take their families out in the country for automobile rides, what do they expect the rest of the population is going to do during that period?

The small boy has no automobile. He has no money to hire one. If he had one, he too would drop his fire crackers, and he himself to the tall timber. Lacking such tools for amusement, he takes those that he finds ready to hand. The fireworks store provides him all he wants for 50 cents.

Fascinating as it may be to murder the sleep of sick people and burn old men's fences, there are plenty of things he would even rather do. A good program of athletics will draw off red blood of the young fry from destruction and unlimited noise. The boy who has a marathon race to run next day, for that shiny cup he has seen in the jeweler's window, is not going to sit up all night firing off dynamite bombs under his neighbor's window.

It merely takes a little time and money from our business men.

The Department of Agriculture tells a rather pleasing story to the country. While there will be a fall-man race. He stands today as the highest embodiment of physical perfection, the most delicately constructed dynamo, the most beautiful animal creation that the ingenuity of man has been able to evolve by artificial means. And what an object of emulation he is to man himself for the scientific breeding of the human race; what a beautiful example of the power of labor and love if it could be assumed by man as a voluntary rather than an involuntary servitude.

As we look upon this noble friend of man, who is so often subjected to the neglect and cruelty of commercial greed and abject slavery, let us not forget that, though he may be owned individually, he is ours by race inheritance, ours to use, ours to enjoy, ours to protect, and that we owe it to him as well as ourselves to demand for him justice and fair play.

If Mr. Bryan could swallow Judge Parker as the presidential candidate in 1904, and stump the country for him as a presidential candidate against Roosevelt in 1904 he ought to be able to stomach him as a temporary chairman of the Baltimore convention. It seems pretty certain that Mr. Bryan is a presidential candidate and wants to begin showing his authority early in the convention.

A Smith college girl had a graduating essay on "The Infringements in Sir Thomas Malory's Morte d'Arthur." The adjectives in the base ball reports would be more helpful if she is going into newspaper work.

Even a new party with the best of intentions and the highest of ideals is not likely to accomplish very much so long as its "leaders" are animated by the rule-or-ruin spirit.

Helen Taft has been going on picnics, but she won't have much of a time unless she goes out in the White house kitchen and makes her own potted ham sandwiches.

As soon as the conventions are over, it is hoped that people will calm down and merely call their friends liars, thieves and other polite terms.

It costs a pot of money to get any one elected president, but our millionaires have to have some kind of toys besides steam yachts.

Now does the Roosevelt bandanna enclose a good hand out for the hungry man, or a tramping outfit after Nov. 5?

It is strange that the Republican platform continues to dodge the question of the national flower.

RECALLS EARLY COUNTY HISTORY

Greenfield Man Writes of Pioneer Days Here When George Payne, Former Slave, Arrived Here.

KIND WORDS FOR "NEIGHBOR"

Tells of Time When Stuart Jameson, Also an Ex-slave, Lived in Union Township.

Charles Vetter of Greenfield recalls some early history in Rush county, and adds some additional facts about the early life of George Payne, the former slave, who died last Sunday and who was so signally honored by the Rush County Bar Association, in a letter addressed to the Daily Republican. He writes:

In Tuesday's issue of the Republican my attention was called to the death of George Payne, one of Rushville's oldest colored citizens. I remember Mr. Payne well although it has been some thirty-five years since I last saw him.

During the fall of 1872 Mr. Payne and I gathered corn together on the Helm farm in Union township, and I became well acquainted with him, and often heard him relate stories of his life in slavery days.

As to the age of Mr. Payne I have no way to determine, only to say he was very gray, indicating that he was a man of fifty-five years.

Mr. Payne was a dwarf, not more than four and a half or five feet in height, and spry as a cricket. He was jovial and good natured and fond of sport. Some of his feats consisted in walking on his hands and standing on his head. He could ride four miles on a wagon wheel by bracing his hands and feet against the fellow on opposite sides of the wheel.

At that time Mr. Payne occupied a tenant house on the Arnold farm in Union township and worked as a farm laborer for one or more years, after which he moved to Rushville and became janitor of most of the law offices. This afforded him a source of livelihood for many years.

Stuart Jameson was another ex-slave of Union township. He was about the same age as Mr. Payne and his life, also, was one of continual toil. They were close associates. He, like many other slaves, had no knowledge of his age. I believe Mr. Jameson has been dead some fifteen years, and I am sorry to note that while he was a soldier of the Civil war, his pension came too late to do him much good.

Flat Foot

Causes All Sorts of Discomfort

In the first illustration we present to you the position of the bones of the foot where the arch is broken down.

You can readily see how the unnatural pressure on tender muscles, ligaments, veins, arteries and nerves must cause all sorts of pain and discomfort and retard perfect circulation.

This condition in many cases is the cause of tired, aching feet and those torturing pains so often laid to Rheumatism, Varicose Veins, Etc.

In the next illustration we show you

Arrowsmith Adjustable Arch Prop

holding the bones and muscles in their proper places, allowing nature to strengthen the strained ligaments and irritated parts and providing relief from all pains and discomfort.

It is a pleasure for us to show you the superior merits of this, the only scientific and most successful arch prop devised. It is made of German Silver. Cannot rust or corrode. Is firm, yet sufficiently resilient. May be fitted in any shoe—your regular size. Easily adjusted to the varied conditions of foot improvement. Come in and see it.

ASPIRANTS UP IN THE AIR

Up to This Point the Convention Is a Free-for-All.

Baltimore, June 27.—Balloting for a candidate for president will begin late today by reason of the Democratic national convention's almost unanimous decision to defer the adoption of a platform until the nominees are named. Nominating speeches are being heard this afternoon.

Senator-Elect Ollie James of Kentucky, a Bryan man, was selected by the committee on organization for permanent chairman. His election was not opposed.

On the eve of the vote Speaker Champ Clark appears to be losing strength. Woodrow Wilson is gaining ground and United States Senator John W. Kern of Indiana and Mayor Gaynor are the most promising possibilities for a compromise. Mr. Kern's hat appeared in the ring yesterday with the endorsement of William J. Bryan. He is regarded as an important factor in the situation, but Charles F. Murphy has declined to give him New York's support.

The situation in regard to the candidates is chaotic. All that is certain is that Clark probably will enter the race with about 450 delegates and Wilson with about 300. A deadlock and several ballots are expected. William J. Bryan again demonstrated his strength in the convention by bringing about the postponement of action on the platform until the nominations are made.

Speaker Clark's action in throwing his strength to Judge Parker for temporary chairman is the cause of the trouble in his camp, and it may result in his undoing as a candidate. Rumblings are heard among many of the Clark delegates, and the men who are engineering the Clark boom plainly are on the anxious seat.

The statement printed in Missouri that Senator W. J. Stone had entered into a political agreement with Chas. F. Murphy by which Murphy was to support Mr. Clark's candidacy in return for Clark votes for Judge Parker, was denied by Senator Stone, who put the responsibility upon ex-Senator Dubois and Pettigrew, Clark's managers. The effect of Senator Stone's denial was to invite an outcry from Dubois and Pettigrew, and Senator Stone threatened to retire from the Clark management.

Mr. Bryan's friends "back home" have busied themselves over the contest between him and Judge Parker, and the Clark delegates are now beginning to receive telegrams of protest. It is apparent that the commoner has started this back fire in the hope of being able to regain the prestige that he lost in his opening struggle in the convention. Bryan's friends say he has received hundreds of telegrams endorsing his course in the convention. Notwithstanding the anxiety expressed by many of the speaker's friends, he will go into the convention when the balloting begins with many more votes than any other candidate. His supporters contend he will have 512 votes on the first ballot, but more conservative estimates give him about 450.

The appearance of Senator Kern in the arena as a possibility is one of the most interesting developments. Senator Lea of Tennessee went to Tom Taggart, national committeeman from Indiana, and suggested a meeting be held of the leaders and Kern be put forward as a candidate. Lea said that Senator Kern would be acceptable to Mr. Bryan. Taggart then sent for Senator Kern and suggested he confer with Mr. Bryan. Mr. Kern saw Bryan and reported back to Taggart that Bryan had advised against his becoming a candidate. Subsequently Senator Lea conferred with Bryan. He returned and said Bryan had changed his mind and that if New York state, Indiana and other eastern states would fall in behind Kern, he would be glad to endorse him. The plan was carried to Charles F. Murphy, leader of the New York delegation, and after being considered by him, Murphy said that New York state would not support Kern. Upon the announcement of Murphy's decision negotiations along this line ceased for the time being.

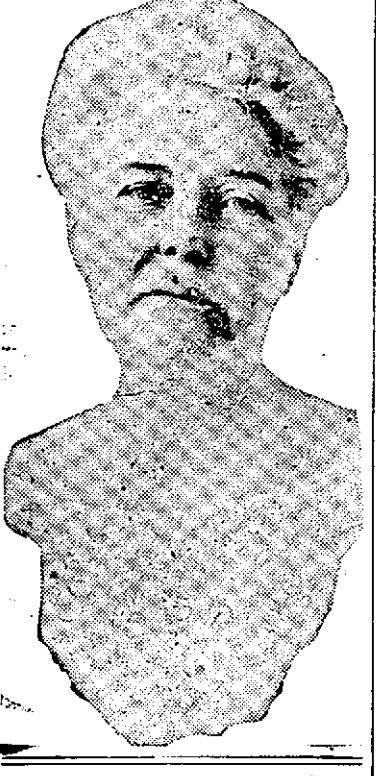

The Woodrow Wilson men are elated over the turn affairs have taken in the last twenty-four hours, and they are predicting that Governor Wilson, when the balloting begins tonight, will have a sufficient number of votes to prevent the selection of a candidate who does not bear his approval. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania figures that Wilson will have 328 delegates, but it is figured that Wilson, in order to exercise this veto power, will have to have 365 delegates.

The New York leaders are still sticking to their plan to present Mayor Gaynor's name on the first ballot.

There is no longer any doubt that Murphy, Sullivan of Illinois and Taggart of Indiana have an understanding among themselves that Wilson shall get none of the votes they control. These three men will control 178 votes in the convention. One report had it that New York would try, out both Harmon and Underwood as candidates before finally throwing their strength to Clark.

ARE MAKING UP THE PLATFORM

Committee Going Over the Ground Very Carefully.

LISTENING TO ALL SIDES

Mr. Bryan, Who Dominates the Committee, Succeeded in Securing an Unprecedented Change in Course of Procedure Whereby Resolutions Shall Be Held Back Until After the Nominations Are Made.

Baltimore, June 27.—The first draft of the party platform is being prepared by a sub-committee of twelve Democratic statesmen. The full committee previously had listened to arguments in support of various planks submitted to the committee for its consideration. Before the hearings began Senator Kern of Indiana, chairman of the committee on resolutions, announced the names of the sub-committee of eleven who, together with himself, are drafting the platform. This sub-committee is composed of the following, in addition to Mr. Kern, who will be ex-officio chairman; Senator Charles A. Culberson of Texas, W. J. Bryan of Nebraska, Senator Isador Rayner of Maryland, Senator James A. O'Gorman of New York, Senator Thomas S. Martin of Virginia, Senator Pomerene of Ohio, George W. Fithian of Illinois, A. M. Dockery of Missouri, S. W. Belford of Nevada, Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, and Congressman R. F. Broussard of Louisiana.

Mr. Bryan clearly dominates the resolutions committee. By a vote of 41 to 11 he forced through a motion at the initial meeting in favor of postponing the adoption of the platform until after the candidates for president and vice president have been nominated. The rules committee, as a result of Bryan's motion, adopted by the resolutions committee, by a vote of 23 to 16, voted to report in the order of business to the convention that the platform be reserved until after nominations are made.

When the full committee on resolutions began hearings on the platform, the first to be heard was Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor. He was assured that the resolutions committee will report a plank reaffirming the declaration made by the Denver convention, and possibly for some form of employers' liability and workmen's compensation legislation. Mr. Gompers touched upon the employers' liability legislation, and he aroused the committee. Senator Culberson opposed the bill that is now pending in the senate, and Mr. Bryan showed plainly by his questions that he was opposed to it. Mr. Gompers shocked the committee somewhat by saying that the present bill framed by a joint commission of congress and recommended by President Taft is the most perfect bill ever offered.

James A. Emory, representing the National Manufacturers' association, advocated the passage of the workmen's compensation employers' liability bill, but opposed the anti-injunction and contempt legislation advocated by Gompers and his associates. He also was opposed to the recommendations of Gompers and his associates that labor organizations be exempted from the operation of the Sherman law. He declared that such legislation by congress would be unconstitutional.

Mr. Bryan then turned his attention to grilling Mr. Emory. After he had secured from the speaker the admission that the late President VanCleave of the association had come out for the Republican ticket in the campaign of 1908 and advised the manufacturers in a letter sent out for them to vote for Taft and Sherman, Mr. Bryan observed:

"Then your organization is a political one, not a commercial one?"

Mr. Emory declared that it was not a political organization, but that it stood ready to repel the attacks upon it.

Representative Rucker of Colorado warned the committee not to endorse Canadian reciprocity, which he said had enabled Roosevelt to beat President Taft in many important states.

Albert Sidney Gregg of Cleveland, O., urged an amendment to the constitution prohibiting polygamy. M. L. Quezon, delegate from the Philippines in the house of representatives, urged the Democrats to repeat their declaration in favor of Filipino independence. Congressman B. J. Lewis of Maryland urged the committee to declare in favor of wiping out express companies and substituting parcels posts therefor. Professor I. L. Fisher and Senator Robert L. Owen asked the committee to declare in favor of a department of public health, and Representative Gregg of Texas, a member of the house committee on naval affairs, appeared to warn the committee that there was a secret effort being made to commit the Democratic national convention in favor of the two battle-ship program, and he advised them in the interest of economy to avoid it.

It is a belief here that Mr. Bryan, if he succeeds in nominating a ticket to his own liking, intends to write a radical platform. It is reported he will try to put through a resolution reading the Ryans and Belmonts out of the Democratic party.

PUT CRIMP IN THE UNIT RULE

Democrats Alter Their Time-Honored Custom.

MR. BRYAN NOT A BIT SORRY

Rule Recommended by the Conservatives Was Rejected by a Vote of 555 to 495, Which Is Looked on as a Fair Test of the Progressive Strength in National Convention—Wilson Gets Back His 19 in Ohio.

Baltimore, June 27.—A recess was taken until 8 o'clock, following an uneventful two-hours' session yesterday afternoon, in which the convention killed time listening to speeches while waiting for the committee to bring in their reports. It was 8:30, however, when Judge Parker called the night session to order. The Rev. T. O. Crouse of the Methodist Mount Royal church, made the prayer. The temporary chairman then recognized Congressman J. Harry Covington of Maryland, chairman of the committee on rules. The single feature of his report, which varied from the usual routine, was the proposed resolution that the candidates be nominated before the platform was adopted. He spoke in advocacy of the innovation and moved the adoption of the report. A roar of ayes followed the putting of the question and there was not a single no.

The rules committee chairman then reported a rule that delegates elected at primaries shall be bound by the unit rule. This rule touched the state of Ohio, where nineteen Wilson men had been tied to the Harmon people by the state convention's unit rule, although a majority of the voters in their districts had instructed them for Wilson. Mr. Covington announced that it had been arranged by him and Congressman Henry of Texas, representing the minority of the committee, to devote two hours to debate. The announcement didn't please many delegates, and there were loud shouts of "No."

Mr. Henry read the minority report and gave way to Mr. Covington, who defended the unit rule as Jeffersonian doctrine. The rule was a progressive institution, he added. Mr. Henry said he was surprised that a report should be presented by Mr. Covington forbidding a delegate to vote as his district instructed him, especially since Maryland has a law to the contrary. "In Ohio the legislature took away from the political committees the right to name delegates, but put in the statutes the provision that they should be elected by the people by districts," said Mr. Henry.

"That convention spit upon the will of the people," he said, "and for this convention to reverse the will of the people would be a mockery of self-government."

Wilson Gets Demonstration.

Henry was loudly applauded by the Wilson men. The conservatives sat quiet. Mr. Covington yielded to John W. Peck of Ohio, who presently casually mentioned "that great governor of New Jersey." Instantly the Harmon speaker had started a Wilson demonstration that was greater than anything that heretofore had been heard in this convention of noise and spontaneity. The New Jersey delegation began it and it spread all over the hall, except, of course, in the Indiana, Illinois and New York delegations. So stirring was the scene that even the New York delegates stood up for a moment to take it in.

Senator John Sharp Williams, who is a Wilson adherent, was on the platform for the first time, waiting to speak for the minority report. When there was no indication that the racket might subside, and there wasn't a little sign of it after seven minutes, Senator Williams waved his slouch hat, urging the delegates to greater enthusiasm. Another Wilson man, ex-Governor Edwin S. Warfield of Maryland, was on the platform. His white hair, ruddy face and white mustache and goatee made him a conspicuous figure and again and again he waved a large straw hat. The most surprised man in the hall was Delegate Peck, who had touched the oratorical match to the Wilson boom.

An effort was made to stop the demonstration by having the band play the "Star Spangled Banner." Everybody stood. But when the band stopped only a few of the delegates sat down. Another trial was made by the band, this time with "We Won't Go Home Till Morning." It had no effect. Edward Moore, Harmon's manager, was on the platform and he was the most disgusted man in the house, unless it was Delegate Peck. While the demonstration was on the nineteen Wilson men in the Ohio delegation became frantic. The Harmon men sat sullen and silent.

As the Wilson demonstration slackened, Underwood's partisans suddenly sprang to their feet and began cheering frantically. The demonstration, now degenerated into mere play, had lasted a good while. When it ceased Judge Parker admonished the people in the galleries to keep quiet. The discussion continued, but the crowd was getting tired and men and women left the galleries. Delegates also moved toward the doors. The delegates were eager for a vote and broke into disorder. They were yelling to the chairman that they did not want to waste all night speech making. At 10:55 Judge Parker put the question. As the voting proceeded it was evident that the old unit rule was in danger. States which had rebuked Bryan either supported the minority report or split their delegations. The roll call proceeded amid disorder. When Leader Murphy cast New York's ninety votes against the minority report he was hissed and hooted. Even in Ohio a Harmon delegate left his crowd and voted to knock out the unit rule. Pennsylvania boosted the minority cause with sixty-five votes.

Visitors were manifesting intense interest in the roll call. The cheers and hissing as the states plumped their votes one way or the other could hardly have been exceeded if the convention had been picking a candidate. The majority against the unit rule appeared when Texas slammed forty votes for the minority report. When Judge Parker announced the vote as: Yes, 555½; no, 495 2-5, there was an outburst of cheering which swept the crowd. There was no doubt that the result was popular.

After the convention thus had taken nineteen delegates from Harmon, Joseph E. Bell of Indiana, chairman of the credentials committee, reported that Roger Sullivan's delegates had been seated for Illinois. The Harrison-Hearst delegates were turned down. The sitting delegate from the Seventh Pennsylvania district was not unseated. The contesting delegates in South Dakota were seated and other unimportant squabbles were adjusted temporarily.

Senator Luke Lea announced that there was a minority report from the credentials committee and asked for an adjournment until 2 p. m. today to present it. The motion was buried in a mighty shout of "No." The delegates are anxious to go home. The convention adjourned at midnight to reconvene at noon today.

Sustained National Committee.

Baltimore, June 27.—The committee on credentials acted on the cases on contested delegates involving in all the seats of about eighty delegates. Of these the most important were the contests from Illinois, which involve a question of regularity of credentials between the Hearst-Harrison and Roger Sullivan slates. The committee in each case presented sustained the findings of the national committee when it made up the temporary roll.

It Impressed the Cardinal.

Baltimore, June 27.—Cardinal Gibbons, who made the opening prayer at the convention, says he was much impressed with the scene. "I was delighted to be at such a wonderful gathering," he said. "It was the first convention of the kind I ever attended. The eloquence of Mr. Bryan impressed me. It was the first time I had heard him. He is a great orator."

Minister Caught at Crossing

Tipton, Ind., June 27.—The Rev. Lafayette Webb, a retired Baptist minister, sixty years old, was killed, and his stepdaughter, Mrs. Eva Barnes, and daughter Ellen, seven years old, were seriously injured when an automobile driven by the minister ran into a passenger locomotive at the L. E. & W. crossing at Jefferson street.

known as the "grand old man" of Rushville. Mr. Graham was a member of the faculty when Dr. Parsons was a student, and the mention of his life and benign influence over the life of many a student in the high school brought a tinge of sadness to the faces of most of the alumni.

Dr. Parsons gave a brief history of the lives of the graduates of his class, and those of the class preceding his, the first one. He recalled that only one member of the initial graduating class was living. F. B.

Pugh of Riverside, Cal. He cited the worldly success of all the members of those first two classes as an argument for high school education. He closed with the thought that he did not pretend to be an after-dinner speaker, and that he could discuss cut-out laws and the city water question better, but he was liberally applauded at any rate.

Mrs. Nina McWhinney's toast, "After Us, The Panic," sparkled with pleasantry. She recalled to mind that there was no intellectual fervor apparent in the world after her class, the one of 1892, has been graduated. Her clever and adroit phrases and sentences convulsed the crowd of banqueters, and she was most heartily applauded at the conclusion of the toast.

E. B. Thomas, a member of the school board, feared a conspiracy, he said, because he noticed no identifying figures after his name on the toast list. This reminded him of an experience of his in early life, which he related, which had taught to be suspicious of odd circumstances ever afterward.

Mr. Thomas said "Fratricide" was a kind of death, and that he was not right certain why such a topic had been assigned to him. He declared he had been told that it was not always sure death. By the natural sequence of the thoughts he expressed, Mr. Thomas lead up to an exhortation to obey the law whatever it may be.

He cited as instances of the common disobedience of the law, that the best citizens of Rushville speed up and down the streets at the rate of thirty or forty miles an hour in their autos, when there is a sign board which says they are forbidden to travel faster than eight miles an hour. He deplored the fact that this is the spirit of the age. He declared that the unrest that is apparent now is due to the attempts of corporations as well as individuals to disobey the spirit and still live up to the letter of the law.

John P. Frazee, Jr., of the last graduating class spoke on "Goslings." He told a story of negro life, using the dialect in such imitable manner that the banqueters were convulsed with laughter. He said that the true meaning of gosling was a young goose, and that he could not see how that applied to the case at hand. His toast was very warmly received.

Following the regular program, the toastmaster called on Will M. Sparks. He responded: "I thank you," and sat down. Walter E. Smith, got out with the same remark, and Mrs. A. L. Gary, who was next asked to give a short toast, spoke for a few moments. John P. Frazee, who was referred to by the toastmaster as the "daddy of the family of orators," said that he might be able to tell a story, but that his son has just beaten him to it.

At the conclusion of the toast list, a short business session was held and the following officers were elected: Dr. F. G. Hackleman, president; Mrs. A. L. Gary, vice-president; Miles S. Cox, secretary, and Miss Anna Bohannon, treasurer. The retiring officers, who have served since the beginning of the organization are: Birney D. Spradling, president; Roy E. Harrold, vice-president; Miss Helen Black, treasurer and Mrs. Roy E. Harrold, secretary.

During the business meeting Ernest B. Thomas was voted an honorary member of the Association.

heart progressive.

A leader in the fight against the Murphy-Ryan-Belmont-Sullivan-Taggart-Smith crowd was needed. The Nebraskan stepped forward and led. He suffered a personal humiliation in his defeat for the temporary chairmanship of the convention, but he revealed the bottom side of the situation to the view of the party, and that was enough.

There has not been one minute since Bryan was defeated for the temporary chairmanship when the Big Business political organization has had a grip on the convention.

When the Nebraskan sounded his battle cry Champ Clark, the speaker of the national house of representatives, a conservative going about disguised as a progressive was as good as nominated for President.

Today he is counted out of the race. His strength began to wane the moment the representative of the party here discovered the character of the influence that was behind his candidacy.

Before the adjournment of the third days' session of the convention beginning at noon today, the name of the party's standard bearer in the presidential contest may be known. Nominating speeches will be in order some time during the day and, as a reasonable limit doubtless will be put on the flow of oratory, balloting should begin during the evening.

Political wisecrackers familiar with the situation today were of the opinion that the convention might continue the voting until a choice was made, requiring a session extending well into the night. Many of the leaders thought it probable, however, that a recess would follow the first or second ballot to permit conferences looking to the elimination, by withdrawal, of candidates showing the least strength.

Friends of Woodrow Wilson approached the crucial test with greater confidence than they have yet manifested. They regarded the overthrowing of the unit rule in certain States by the convention last night through a coalition of the Bryan and Wilson forces as significant of the final outcome. Much of importance was attached by them to a report that Mr. Bryan was prepared to throw his chips into Governor Wilson's basket.

Clark followers apparently think that Bryan has turned against the Missourian because the Nebraskan's strength was lined up with the Wilson people on the vote last night. Up to the actual opening of the convention, Mr. Bryan seemingly had treated both Clark and Wilson on equal terms.

DEPUTIES ALONG FLATROCK BANKS

Game and Fish Commission Hears of Law Violations and Prepares to Catch Offenders.

FISHERMAN USING SEINES

Hearing of the illegal catching of fish, Fish Commissioner Myers has sent three deputies into the county and will look for violations of the fish laws, says the Shelbyville Republican. It is said that ten days ago a party of fishermen went to Flatrock in the vicinity of St. Paul, where they used seines in landing a number of fish, among them many game fish. These were carried away by the seiners. The people of St. Paul became indignant and wrote to the fish commissioner and he has now sent men in the field to arrest any one that is caught violating the game and fish laws of the State.

The law is to the effect that seines can not be used unless a deputy fish commissioner is present at the time of the seining, and that all game fish caught in the seines must be returned to the river or stream from which they are taken at once. There promises to be some arrests before the deputies leave this territory.

The annual meeting of the Women's Presbyterian Missionary Society of the Indiana Presbytery of the U. P. church, of which Mrs. A. W. Jamieson of this city is president, will close at the First U. P. church in Indianapolis this evening with a program at which Miss J. B.
